ABOUT SCHOOL OF ARCHITECTURE

Architecture is about designing buildings, creating space in holistic terms. The School believes in imparting architectural education with the vision to prepare architects for entrepreneurship and innovation, who shall accept future challenges globally in shaping of the built environment. Looking ahead to the third decade of the twenty-first century, the need of architects is expanding in India and abroad. Population and demographic shifts, healthcare needs, environmental concerns, industrial and commercial growth, conservation of our architectural heritage, transportation infrastructure; all of these aspects present opportunities to design professionals.

School of Architecture at Galgotias University offers a unique holistic strategic framework of a balanced yet challenging curriculum of architecture degree program, where budding architects shall have an opportunity to create an impact in our environment through design innovation, services, sustainability, business and generative leadership with emphasis on nurturing individual creativity. Site visits, industry interactions and educational tours are appropriately incorporated in architectural studios embedded with social, cultural, economic, political and environmental aspects.

It is expected from our budding professionals of architecture to be able to conceptualize and plan intelligently, stimulate artistic sensitivity, have a creative power, self-confidence and strengthen intellectual ability to facilitate appropriate decisions with innovative ideas to serve the society. We are committed on our part to impart sound technical education with an artistic flavor so that students are exposed to various parameters of architecture in order to become distinguished self-motivated architects who shall assume leadership positions in building industry.
