Description (min 250 to max 800 words)*

The Department of Electrical, Electronics & Communication Engineering organised a Prize Distribution Ceremony to honour the winners of ACME Gala, Rangoli & Diya Decoration competitions and PLC Workshop. The ceremony took place in Block-C Old Auditorium, Galgotias University, on 11th December 2025 from 2:00 PM to 5:00 PM in offline mode.

Recognizing and celebrating student achievements plays an essential role in promoting confidence, motivation, and continued participation in academic and creative activities. To acknowledge the efforts and contributions of students, Club ACME organised the Prize Distribution Ceremony dedicated to honouring the winners of the ACME Gala events as well as the Rangoli and Diya Decoration competitions and PLC Workshop. The ceremony reflected the department's commitment to encouraging talent, creativity, and leadership among its student community.

The event witnessed the presence of around 120 attendees, including faculty members, student participants, invited guests, and volunteers. The atmosphere of the auditorium was filled with excitement and appreciation as dignitaries and senior faculty members joined to encourage the awardees and acknowledge their outstanding performance in various segments of ACME Gala. Their motivating presence made the ceremony more meaningful and inspiring for the students. The programme commenced with a formal welcome, followed by a brief introduction emphasizing ACME Society's mission of promoting cultural, creative, and professional engagement within the department. Students were felicitated for their accomplishments in multiple categories such as innovative activities, creative performances, departmental contributions, and last year's Rangoli and Diya awards. Each winner was invited on stage to receive certificates and trophies, accompanied by applause and appreciation from the audience. The event was conducted smoothly under the guidance of ACME faculty coordinators, who ensured effective stage management, hospitality, and overall coordination. Student volunteers played a significant role in the event by managing logistics, assisting dignitaries, and ensuring the timely flow of program activities. Their contribution reflected dedication, discipline, and leadership. In her address, the Head Coordinator of ACME expressed that the purpose of the ceremony was not only to distribute prizes but also to recognize and appreciate the hard work, enthusiasm, and talent demonstrated by students over the year. The dignitaries congratulated all winners and participants, acknowledging their spirit of involvement and wishing them success in future departmental activities. The ceremony concluded with a vote of thanks, expressing gratitude to the university management, faculty members, volunteers, and participants for contributing to the success of the event. Attendees left the venue feeling motivated and appreciated, carrying a sense of pride and encouragement for their future endeavours. The event was graced by Dr. Meenakshi Awasthi (Prof. & Head, DEECE), Dr. Dinesh Singh, Dr. Sheetla Prasad, Dr. Divya Sharma, Dr. Yogesh Tripathi, Dr. Praveen Srivastava. The ceremony was supported by Deepak Kumar, President ACME and student volunteers: Anirudh, Prakhar Rai, Shreyash Rai, Rudransh Upadhyay, Madhur, Sparshika, Nikita, Sargam and Manish Mandal.
