Introduction: Career Planning & Development Division

Career Planning & Development Division (CPDD) looks after corporate relations, career guidance and placements of the students. It plays a major role in liaising with different industrial establishments and manufacturing units for curriculum based training, placements, guest lectures and skill development programs.

Career Planning & Development Division is committed to provide ample opportunities to the graduate and post-graduate students so that they may secure employment in multi-national companies and other reputed organizations. CPDD doesn't only provide placement opportunities but it also lays emphasis to prepare the students for coping up with the current challenges of the industry by making them aware about the recent market trends and latest technologies; eminent experts from different companies are invited to the campus on regular basis who can share their experiences and knowledge with the students.

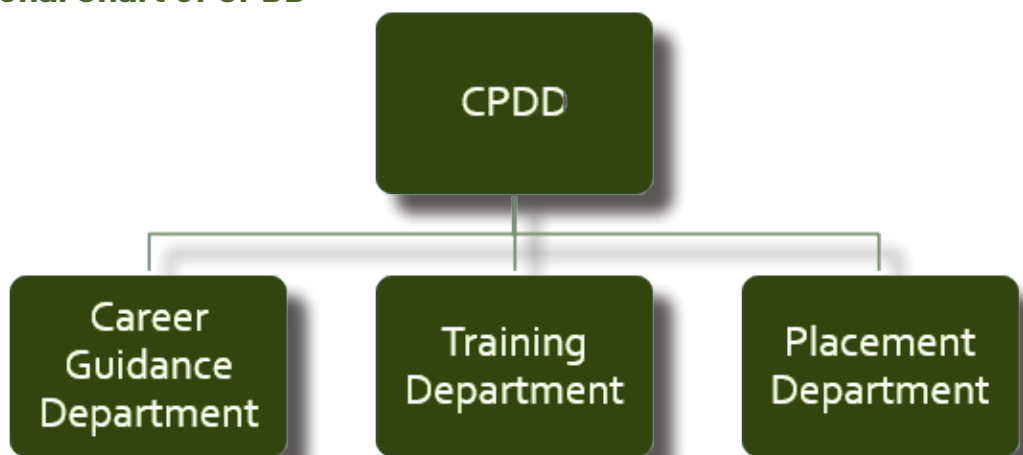

CPDD is rigorously involved in collaborating with leading organizations for conducting internships, placements and training programs. It acts as an interface among students, alumni, and the employment community and bridges the gap between industry and academia.

CPDD Structure and Functions:

Career Planning & Development Division (CPDD) has been divided in three different sub units to serve the purpose, the sub units are -
