| Description (min 250 to max 800 words)* | The Department of Electrical, Electronics &amp; Communication Engineering (DEECE), Galgotias University, successfully organized a French Language &amp; Communication Skills Workshop to enhance the linguistic abilities, communication competence, and intercultural awareness of students. The workshop aimed to provide participants with a strong foundation in the French language while improving their verbal and written communication skills through engaging and interactive learning sessions. The resource person for the workshop was Dr. Manisha Rani, Assistant Professor, School of Languages (French), Galgotias University. Dr. Rani delivered an insightful and engaging session, introducing participants to the fundamentals of the French language, including basic vocabulary, pronunciation, greetings, everyday expressions, and essential conversational phrases. She emphasized the importance of effective communication skills and highlighted the growing relevance of French as an international language in higher education, research, global careers, and cross-cultural collaboration. The workshop incorporated interactive activities, pronunciation exercises, role plays, and question-and-answer sessions that encouraged active participation and improved learners' confidence in using basic French expressions. Participants also gained valuable insights into French culture, etiquette, and communication practices, enabling them to appreciate the significance of language as a bridge for global understanding and professional networking. Students and faculty members, enthusiastically participated in the programme and appreciated the practical approach adopted during the sessions. The workshop provided an excellent platform for participants to develop foundational language skills while strengthening their communication abilities and preparing themselves for international academic and professional opportunities. The programme concluded with an interactive discussion, during which participants shared their learning experiences and clarified their queries with the resource person. The Department of Electrical, Electronics &amp; Communication Engineering expressed its sincere gratitude to Dr. Manisha Rani for her valuable contribution and inspiring session. The workshop was highly successful in promoting multilingual learning, effective communication, and global cultural awareness among the participants. |
